

ARTIST MEMBERSHIP APPLICATION PROCESS

ODACA is an organization of artists who create original art dolls. These dolls are entirely the work of the artist, meaning that they are not made from commercial molds or patterns. ODACA's mission is to educate doll collectors about original dolls and the artists who create them. ODACA also encourages doll artists to achieve and maintain the highest possible standards for their work.

To become an Artist Member of ODACA, applicants are critiqued three times by ODACA's Standards Committee - an Initial Screening, a Portfolio Submission, and finally an In-Person Evaluation at ODACA's Annual Meeting in July. ODACA's Standards Committee consists of five ODACA Artists who work in diverse mediums and one non-voting Chair.

Initial Screening Critique

The ODACA Standards Committee places emphasis on artistic expression, originality, presentation, professionalism, and the use of your medium. The Committee also want to see continuity across the work you present. It should have a "look" or "feel" that sets it apart as your own. If you work in several different mediums, please choose just one to present for critique.

The following is a checklist required for submission:
